

in particular execution.

The typical corporate reaction to poor economic times is to cut it is expected

